INTRODUCING

Marine Gate, BN2

2/3 Bedrooms | 2 Bathroom | 1 Reception Room
1485.42 sq ft | Direct Sea Views & Balcony

Brighton's iconic development: Marine Gate was built in 1939 with luxury and comfort in mind for its residents. Many decades later, it has retained its air of exclusivity with manicured gardens, a full-time concierge, on-site parking and both a maintenance manager and a gardener to ensure it stays this way. This generous two/ three bedroom apartment resides on the fourth floor, yet it also boasts a large 10m/6.5m garage on the ground floor, linking through to a vast and versatile games room or workspace.

Internally, while the property has been expertly maintained and modernised in areas, there remains scope to add value or simply put your own stamp on the place. The rooms are beautifully proportioned and from the east and westerly enclosed balconies, you gain direct sea views, looking out over the boats of Brighton Marina or across the rooftops of the local landscape to the racecourse and hills of the South Downs.

Marine Gate was always intended as an upmarket development and is a striking South Coast landmark designed by Messrs Wimpens, Simpson & Guture. Brilliantly designed, these apartments are well-insulated for sound and heat which ensures they are peaceful from within. With a full-time concierge on hand 24/7, they also feel wonderfully secure to just lock-up-and-leave, making them ideal second homes or perfect for people who travel.

You approach up a sweeping front drive with this apartment set within the westerly wing. The communal ways are immaculate with a lift to whisk you to the fourth floor. Elevated above the seafront road, it is incredibly peaceful up here as you are greeted into a wide and welcoming entrance hall with soft carpet underfoot. It is clearly a beautifully maintained home with crisp white walls ensuring it feels bright and airy. The rooms are generous in size with ample glazing to fill each space with natural light from east to west, with the dual aspect reception room spanning the depth of the building with balcony access on either side. To the east, the views take you across the marina and the English Channel, while to the west, open skies sit above the city, changing to pink and red during sunset – ideal for sundowners on the balcony, which is enclosed to be enjoyed at any time of year.

Inside, there are clearly defined areas for formal dining, relaxed seating, entertaining or working from home if need be.

Nearby, the kitchen is well equipped with a vast amount of storage and integrated appliances. While it is in fine condition, it would be possible to add considerable value with some modernisation or reconfiguration. The same can be said for the bathrooms which sit on either side of the entrance hall with easy access to the bedrooms. Both bedrooms are substantial doubles with ample built-in wardrobes, so even with king size beds, the floor space is not compromised. Opposite, the study would work equally well as a nursery or guest bedroom and a large utility room sits alongside keeping laundry sounds away from both the living areas and bedrooms.

Accessed from the drive, the garage is vast and secure, ready for precious vehicles and motorbikes, or even a boat for winter storage.

The views never tire as they change with the seasons, and the location is hugely convenient with Kemptown and Brighton Marina on your doorstep."
