Tucked away in the picturesque hamlet of Linton Falls, this exceptional chain free residence exudes timeless charm and character, seamlessly blending historical elegance with modern comfort. From the moment you arrive, you are struck by the home's striking façade—a proud reflection of traditional architecture and fine craftsmanship.

Stepping through the original door beneath a covered storm porch, you're welcomed into an inviting entrance vestibule with Yorkshire stone-flagged flooring, automatic lighting, a cloak rail, and a built-in shoe cabinet. The vestibule opens into a magnificent sitting room, where a feature fireplace with a multi-fuel stove, large original-panel windows, and exposed ceiling beams create a warm, rustic ambiance with views over the surrounding landscape.

The heart of the home lies in the impressive dining kitchen—a bespoke space designed for both functionality and entertaining. Featuring integrated appliances, a central island, an electric Cuisine Master range, and original parquet flooring, the kitchen is framed by large windows with a charming window seat—perfect for soaking in the breathtaking views.

Adjoining the kitchen, a bright rear lounge provides a cosy retreat with its inglenook-style fireplace, another multi-fuel stove, original mullion windows and timber ceiling beams. A panelled and glazed door leads directly into the rear garden, inviting nature in. Also on the ground floor is a stylish cloakroom and a generously sized utility room complete with Yorkshire stone floors and stone bank shelving.

On the lower ground floor, a private double bedroom offers a peaceful sanctuary, boasting a vaulted ceiling, exposed stonework, and an en suite shower room—ideal for guests or as a self-contained space. Upstairs, the half landing showcases a mullion window framing spectacular views across the river and surrounding countryside. The principal suite is nothing short of luxurious, featuring its own inglenook fireplace with a log burner, panoramic views, and a beautifully appointed en suite shower room. Two further double bedrooms offer built-in storage and more of those stunning views, while the standout family bathroom is a haven of relaxation, with a four-piece suite including a freestanding bath, exposed beams and a dramatic feature ceiling. Outside, the grounds are just as enchanting as the interior. Landscaped gardens are interspersed with charming seating areas, perfect for morning coffee or evening drinks while enjoying the tranquil sounds of the river. A light woodland area adds to the sense of seclusion and natural beauty. The detached stone-built garage benefits from existing planning permission for conversion, presenting an exciting opportunity for a home office, holiday let, or business venture, plus ample on-site parking. The property does also benefit from solar panels and fishing rights, there was also planning permission for a side extension which has now lapsed.
