Summary of Accommodation

About the property

Dating back over 400 years, with mapping records dating to 1570, this exceptional farmhouse offers a rare combination of historic character, beautifully presented accommodation and an outstanding rural setting. Set within approximately 35 acres of gardens and surrounding land, the property has been finished and maintained to an exemplary standard throughout, while retaining a wealth of period features.

The extensive accommodation includes a welcoming family lounge, an impressive dining room featuring immense exposed ceiling beams and a deep inglenook fireplace, together with a country kitchen/breakfast room, study and striking garden room rising to the apex of the roof. A utility room and ground-floor shower room complete the principal living accommodation. The first floor provides an impressive principal bedroom - a former hayloft retaining original, exposed beams - with dressing room and en suite bathroom, alongside three further generous double bedrooms, each benefiting from its own en suite facilities.

Garden & Grounds

Approached via a private farm lane from Llanrisant Road, Maendy Farm is set within an attractive rural holding, with a gated entrance and sweeping tarmacadam driveway leading to extensive gravelled parking and turning areas. The property enjoys a private, low-maintenance garden adjoining the farmhouse, featuring flagstone and timber-decked seating areas, together with a sunken hot tub, creating an excellent setting for outdoor entertaining and relaxation.

Beyond the farmhouse lies a substantial five-bay stable and yard complex, incorporating four 12' x 12' bays, a further 12' x 9' bay, tack room, feed store and WC. A separate detached garage, accessed via twin electric up-and-over doors, provides secure garaging for up to four vehicles, while an external stone staircase leads to a useful upper-level storage area/home office.

The property is further complemented by approximately 35 acres of pasture and grazing land, divided into a number of individual field enclosures and offering considerable scope for equestrian use and a variety of country pursuits.

Of particular interest is a detached, currently derelict Welsh Long House, presenting an exciting opportunity for sympathetic restoration or potential further development, subject to the necessary planning consents. Overall, Maendy Farm offers a rare combination of farmhouse, extensive gardens, equestrian facilities, outbuildings and substantial surrounding land in an appealing rural setting.
