ABOUT THE PROPERTY

Surrounded by its own grounds totalling 12.5 acres, sits Middle Hill in Llanccarfan. This sleek, contemporary four bedroom home has been extended, and completely re-modelled in the last ten years by its current owners to the highest standard.

High ceilings and oversized quality triple-glazed Danish windows throughout create a dramatic sense of space and light, and take advantage of the surrounding south-facing Vale countryside. Furthermore this family home has been designed with 'Rako' lighting system throughout providing state-of-the-art digital dimming technology to each room, which can be controlled remotely through wireless devices. Along with electrically-controlled curtains, and USB sockets plus surround sound system to the main reception rooms.

To the entrance of this property is a large cloakroom with a range of 'Hammonds' fitted storage for cloaks and shoes, which leads seamlessly into the impressive hallway with its feature sweeping staircase complete with Chandelier above and 'Mandarin Stone' extra large tiled flooring with underfloor heating. Located just off here is a WC, a sizeable home office - with fitted 'Hammonds' furniture and its own access to the front - and a utility room / boot room. The utility room houses the oil-fired boiler and provides extra storage with sink unit. From here there is a superb gym with most equipment to remain, with mirrored wall, large storage cupboard and stunning views across the front lawn and fields beyond.

To the newest part of the property is the lounge with an amazing vaulted ceiling with chandelier, and a central feature to this room is the freestanding 'Chessneys' wood burning stove nestled neatly within a limestone fireplace. This room also connects onto the rear paved terrace via broad sliding doors with remote-controlled curtains. From the lounge there is access into the family games room with pool table to remain; this multi-purpose dual aspect reception room could also be utilised as a ground floor guest bedroom. There is a large walk-in storage room which houses the broadband and electric systems.

SITUATION

The Village of Llanccarfan is positioned within gently rolling countryside and contains a number of period houses, church and public house. Although enjoying the benefits of a rural community, the village is accessible to the nearby Town of Cowbridge and is within the catchment area of the town's well regarded comprehensive school to which there is a bus service. The historic town of Cowbridge includes a range of quality shops, restaurants, a public library, health centre, a leisure centre and various sporting clubs. The heritage coastline lies to the south and west, with its beautiful cliff top walks and mixture of sandy and stoney beaches. The City of Cardiff is also within reach via the A48 road and the M4 motorway provides access to other major commercial centres in the region. There is a main-line railway station at Cardiff providing direct access to London in around two hours.

GARDENS AND GROUNDS

From the lane into the village of Llanccarfan, a broad sweeping gated entrance leads onto a large driveway to the side of the property. This, in turn, runs to a detached garage with electric shutter door which houses a 'Honda' ride-on mower to remain. Beyond here are three large steel portal frame barns, two benefiting from power supply and large farmyard - ideal for horse enthusiasts.

Set within approximately 12.5 acres of mature grounds, the property includes three enclosures - the largest is gently sloping - see plan for outlined details. To the front, a lawn with mature borders and pond continues to the side and wraps-around into the rear garden. The rear garden itself is an enclosed south-facing space of wonderfully generous proportions including a great area of lawn screened by mature and well tended conifer hedging and picket fencing.

A paved sun terrace with electric awning is ideal for al-fresco dining and to catch the morning through to late afternoon sun, where there is a space for a sunken hot tub.
