Summary of Accommodation

About the property

In the heart of "old Llantwit Major", Orchard House is a property of immense character in this conservation area. It provides great family sized accommodation yet retains considerable scope to further improve or alter to one's own specifications (subject to any appropriate consents). The current accommodation is wonderfully family friendly and would suit the same. The property is entered from the front, southerly elevation directly into the kitchen/breakfast room. This large space has a quarry tiled floor with units to three sides with ample space remaining for a family sized dining table to the centre of the room. An electric range cooker is to remain; space/plumbing remains for a dishwasher. An adjacent walk-in pantry provides much additional storage and space for a fridge / freezer while a separate utility room houses a washing machine and a dryer. The utility room, in turn, links to a wine cellar with steps leading up to a bonus space – a hobbies room and home office. The dining room, like the kitchen, enjoys similar views over the south facing front garden. It includes a recessed fireplace with stone surround possibly concealing a much older Inglenook-style fireplace. A linking door connects through to the family lounge, a triple aspect room with a south facing frontage and a window looking to the rear. This large living space has, as a focal feature, a wood burning stove recessed in a chimney breast with slate mantelpiece and fire surround including decorative tiled inserts. Beyond the lounge is the most recent addition to the property, a highly usable garden room with solid, insulated roof; south facing windows and double doors open to a private patio seating area with a glorious vista looking over the garden. A cloakroom / WC is located to the rear of this garden room

To the first floor are four bedrooms and a family bathroom. All bedrooms look to the front, southerly elevation and three of these are double bedrooms. The largest bedroom is a good double room with its own en suite bath and shower room and adjacent, separate WC. Family bathroom is a modern suite with shower over bath.

Garden & Grounds

Orchard House is set within a large plot of about 1/3 of an acre in total, between High Street and Turkey Street with vehicular access to the driveway parking area from Turkey Street. A pedestrian gate leads from the garden onto High Street. The house itself is set to the northern side of the plot and thus enjoys a great southerly aspect. It is screened from the roadway by thoughtfully planted mature trees and shrubs. From the vehicular access on Turkey Street, a driveway with ample room for a number of cars to park runs to the detached, stone built garage (approx. max 4.8m x 3m) with side-hinged doors giving access into a great parking space/workshop. A paved path meanders through planted borders and sweeps around to the front of the property and the principal entrance doorway. This path divides two sections of garden - a more formal lawn to the eastern side edged by shrub borders whilst, to the western side, there is a larger lawn interspersed with fruit trees, nut trees and a number of productive raised vegetable beds and soft fruit borders. The plot itself is wonderfully sheltered and private.
