THE DETAIL

The Detail

The property is approached via a driveway leading through wooden gates, creating a private and welcoming entrance. The traditional porch features an attractive combination of glass and timber, complemented by decorative tiled flooring. From here, the dining room provides an inviting setting for family meals and entertaining, with real wooden flooring, a characterful chimney breast and ample space for a large dining table. A couple of steps lead up to the kitchen diner, where tiled flooring, exposed ceiling beams and dual-aspect windows create a distinctive country-style atmosphere. Wooden cabinetry is paired with black worktops, with space for a large oven, dishwasher and fridge freezer. The room also houses the boiler and benefits from doors opening directly onto the garden.

The generous utility room offers extensive cupboard storage, worktop space and provision for both a washing machine and tumble dryer. A stable door provides access outside, while a conveniently positioned ground-floor WC is accessible from the utility room and hallway.

The spacious lounge features wooden flooring, ceiling beams and a log burner framed by windows on either side. Glazed double doors connect the lounge with the dining room, while further double doors open into the large conservatory, complete with decorative floor tiles, a glass roof, traditional-style windows and direct garden access. The entrance hallway also provides useful coat and shoe storage, together with space beneath the stairs for a home office.

Upstairs, there are four double bedrooms, including a particularly generous principal bedroom with a full wall of fitted wardrobes, carpeting and beautiful views across the fields. The property benefits from two substantial bathrooms: a tiled shower room with underfloor heating, a
