DESCRIPTION

This unique detached cottage located just moments from the Blyth River, Southwold Harbour, and Walberswick Beach, offers the perfect blend of traditional charm and modern comfort. Part stone, part rendered elevation red clay pan-tiled roofs, adding to its character and appeal. Inside, the spacious dining hall features a cosy wood burner and a staircase leads up to the first floor. The large, stylish living room is another highlight, complete stunning wood panelled walls and ceiling, wood burner and casement doors that opening onto the garden, creating an ideal space for both relaxation and entertaining. The fitted kitchen, along with a rear hall, cloakroom, and family bathroom, provide everything needed for comfortable living.

Upstairs, the landing connects to two generous double bedrooms, one of which has an en-suite shower room with the other having a double aspect, overlooking the green opposite The Bell and with a window seat offering a unique view of the river and Southwold beyond.

Nestled on the south bank of the River Blyth, Walberswick is a picturesque village directly across from Southwold. In summer, a ferry offers a quick and scenic journey, cutting down what would otherwise be a seven-mile drive. Once a bustling fishing village, Walberswick is now home to a thriving artistic community, hosting regular exhibitions and offering a range of local amenities, including two excellent pubs, charming tea rooms, and a community village hall. Today, nearly half of the village's homes are used as holiday retreats, contributing to the area's appeal as a tranquil getaway.
