Location

The property enjoys a very pleasant rural position on the Heveningham Hall Estate on the edge of the village.

The village of Peasenhall is situated two miles away with a number of shops, a primary school and an active community spirit. Heveningham is also situated some five miles to the south-west of Halesworth, a popular market town with a railway station with connecting services to Ipswich and onto London's Liverpool Street station. Halesworth also benefits from a Co-operative supermarket, garages, a medical centre, primary school, library and excellent local shops, pubs and restaurants.

The historic market town of Framlingham lies some ten miles to the south and offers further facilities and schooling in both the state and private sectors. The well regarded coastal town of Southwold is about 14 miles to the east and the RSPB Minmere (featured in the BBC's Springwatch TV series) is about 12 miles. Also within the vicinity are the popular resorts of Dunwich, Aldeburgh, Thorpeness and also Snape, with its well renowned Concert Hall.
