FOUR DOUBLE BEDROOMS, BURSTING WITH CHARACTER

A generously proportioned period home, with origins dating back to the 17th century, set within the highly desirable village of Bretforton. This characterful property has been sympathetically extended and updated, successfully blending modern comforts with its historic appeal. The accommodation includes four bedrooms, off-road parking, a charming courtyard garden, gas central heating, partial triple glazing, and ample storage throughout.

Accessed via a timber pedestrian gate leading to a covered porch, the front door opens into a spacious entrance hall. From here, there is access to a ground floor shower room, a walk-in coat cupboard, and the principal living areas. The dual-aspect sitting room is a standout feature, boasting an impressive inglenook fireplace with an open fire, while a separate dining room or study provides versatile additional space.

The well-appointed kitchen diner offers a range of coordinated wall and base units with integrated appliances, and double doors open into a practical lean-to area. This space incorporates a large storage cupboard housing the boiler, along with a utility area complete with plumbing for a washing machine and a Belfast sink.

Upstairs, the first-floor landing leads to four well-sized bedrooms and a family bathroom.

Externally, the property enjoys secure gated off-road parking and a private, sun-filled courtyard garden enclosed by walls and fencing—ideal for outdoor dining and relaxation. This distinctive home presents an excellent opportunity to acquire a blend of period charm and contemporary living in a sought-after village setting.
