- Beautifully presented four-bedroom character home
- Open field views to two sides
- Impressive contemporary rear extension

Occupying a wonderful position on Roker Lane, this beautifully presented four-bedroom character home combines the charm of the original property with an impressive contemporary extension and far-reaching views across open fields to two sides.

The real centrepiece of the home is the superb rear extension, added in 2015 to create a fantastic space for modern family life and entertaining. Flooded with natural light beneath an impressive oversized rooflight, the extension features a premium Schüco glazing system, while underfloor heating and its own independently controlled heating zone allow the space to be enjoyed comfortably throughout the year.

Throughout the property, the accommodation is well presented and retains a real sense of character, with four bedrooms complemented by a family bathroom and en-suite. Both bathrooms benefit from electric underfloor heating, while the main house and extension are controlled independently through a dual-zone Hive smart heating system.

The property has also been thoughtfully upgraded with modern living in mind. Full fibre has recently been connected directly to the premises, while integrated network, TV and speaker cabling runs throughout the house, with ceiling speakers remaining. The infrastructure is currently used with a Control4 home automation system, giving a future owner the option to install their own compatible AV and smart-home setup.

Further improvements include A-rated windows installed in 2014, a Worcester Bosch boiler installed in December 2017 and currently under warranty until December 2027, hard-wired smoke alarms with battery backup and a fully decked loft incorporating a LoftZone raised flooring system with approximately 250mm of insulation.

Externally, the property enjoys a particularly attractive outlook, with rural field views to two sides creating a sense of openness that is difficult to find. The garage benefits from an electric roller door and had its roof replaced and insulated in 2024, while an

- Striking oversized rooflight and Schüco glazing
- Separate underfloor-heated extension zone
- Dual-zone Hive smart heating
- Family bathroom and en-suite with underfloor heating

Easee One 7kW EV charger provides convenient home charging. App-controlled security cameras and a professionally maintained multi-zone alarm system provide additional peace of mind.

A superb family home where period character, contemporary design and modern technology come together, with the exceptional rear extension and surrounding rural outlook making this a particularly special property in Pudsey.
