DESCRIPTION

Poplar Works is a home for anyone working in fashion: designers, makers, consultants, jewellers, set designers, experienced business owners, and first year start ups. It's a home for every one part of the fashion industry.

The breadth of what's going on is what makes us a unique space in London. We have a range of studios across two sites, an extensive enterprise and events programme, and are home to London College of Fashion, UAL's award-winning Making for Change programme.

Poplar Works is a partnership between Poplar HARCA, London College of Fashion, UAL and The Trampery. All three organisations have worked together to bring something unique to the space. We've been supported by the Mayor of London and are part of the Fashion District.
